THE KNOG MILKMAN
CABLE LOCK

FITS IN YOUR POCKET. 4 WILD COLOUR COMBO'S.
SCARES OFF CREEPS. YOUR NEW BUDDY.

The Knog Milkman: a retractable steel cable lock, which loops around your bike frame and any bolted-down fat-ass post, locking simply and swiftly but compact enough to fit in your back pocket.

The Milkman is a low-security 77.5mm x 77.5mm x 20mm steel cable lock with a 90cm retractable braided steel cable, covered with a translucent PVC sheath so it won't dare damage your bike. The end of the cable is crimped to a 6.5mm stainless locking pin, which slides into the spring loaded latching mechanism quicker than you can crap on about the milkman ringing twice.

Knog's designers have used a zinc die-cast lock barrel that can stand up to all weather conditions including deranged dogs and school kids. The Milkman comes with 3 overmoulded keys, and a 1000 combination style lock cylinder so your precious milk will be secured. Weighing in at 110g it'll fit in your back pocket like a wallet and your bum will still look hot.

The Milkman's body is an injection-moulded polycarbonate with a high gloss finish and comes in four colours for every bent – red, teal, silver and black.

Available in stores and online. Expect them to retail at around USD$25
